The Snake and the Hawk

There's a snake outside my door, it's been there all day,
I don't know what for it's been there all day and it won't go away
There's a hawk in the sky with a very, very keen eye
A wind from the South blowing harder every day
Moving toward the coast, gonna blow you away
But I'll be back at a given time, in 27 days or so
I'll come around then come on down, then I have to go
